

Fair Housing in Washington State

Top 100 Frequently Asked Questions & Answers for Property Owners and Managers

Prepared by:

FAIR HOUSING AGENCIES OF WASHINGTON STATE

Second Edition (June 2004)

Introduction

The Fair Housing Agencies of Washington State would like to partner with you in affirmatively furthering your fair housing efforts by providing this guidebook for your use. We hope to be instrumental in providing information and assistance in our joint effort to provide fair housing for all. If your question is not answered here, please contact your local fair housing agency.

This guidebook is also available online at www.metrokc.gov/dias/ocre. The fair housing agencies have also collaborated to create other resources for housing providers, available at the same web site:

- sample policies covering service animals, tenant-on-tenant harassment, and reasonable accommodations and modifications
- free quarterly “Fair Housing Update” newsletter (call any agency to get on the list for a print copy or e-mail notification of online issues)
- fair housing posters
- many other frequently asked questions and a wealth of resources.

This guidebook was edited by the King County Office of Civil Rights (KCOCR). If you have feedback, contact KCOCR at 206-296-7592, TTY 206-296-7596, or e-mail us at civil-rights.ocr@metrokc.gov.

FAIR HOUSING AGENCIES OF WASHINGTON STATE

Washington State Human Rights Commission
King County Office of Civil Rights
Seattle Office for Civil Rights
Tacoma Human Rights and Human Services Department
Fair Housing Center of South Puget Sound
Northwest Fair Housing Alliance

This information does not constitute legal advice. The fair housing laws are subject to change. If you have questions about fair housing issues, feel free to contact one of the listed agencies.

AVAILABLE IN ALTERNATE FORMATS UPON REQUEST
CONTACT KING COUNTY OFFICE OF CIVIL RIGHTS
206-296-7592, TTY 206-296-7596

Contents

CHAPTER ONE: FAIR HOUSING BASICS

Page 1

Section A: A Brief History 1

Section B: Fair Housing Laws 1

Question 1.	What fair housing laws apply in Washington state?	1
Question 2.	How do I know which laws apply to my property?	2
Question 3.	How do I know which agency has geographical jurisdiction over my property?	2
Question 4.	Some of the protected classes are confusing. What do they actually mean?	3
Question 5.	The fair housing agency chart lists retaliation. What should we know about that?	4
Question 6.	What housing actions are covered by the fair housing laws?	5
Question 7.	How long does a tenant have to file a fair housing complaint in the various jurisdictions?	6
Question 8.	Who may be held responsible for violations?	6
Question 9.	Who can file a fair housing complaint?	6
Question 10.	What is the relationship between the Landlord-Tenant laws and fair housing laws?	7
Question 11.	A complaint was just filed against us alleging discrimination. What happens now?	7

Section A: Advertising

9

- Question 12. How can I safely advertise or market my property under fair housing laws? 9
- Question 13. Who do the advertising guidelines cover? 9
- Question 14. What are the requirements regarding fair housing posters and logos? 9
- Question 15. What should I know about marketing my properties using ads with human models or drawings? 10
- Question 16. What can I say about my property? 10
- Question 17. Can I ever affirmatively market to a protected class? 10
- Question 18. What other things can I do to comply with fair housing laws in advertising? 11

Section B: Application and Screening Process

11

- Question 19. How can I be sure my screening process meets fair housing guidelines? 11
- Question 20. If several applicants are competing for the same apartment, can I choose the applicant I believe will be the best based on my experience? 12
- Question 21. Can I say that an apartment is not available if I don't think some applicants would make good tenants? 12
- Question 22. Is it legal for a rental manager to request to see a photo ID from prospective applicants? 13
- Question 23. What should I do if someone who doesn't speak English comes to look for an apartment? 13
- Question 24. Can I verify that someone is legally in the country? 14

Question 25.	What should I do if an applicant is a recent immigrant with no social security number and with little or no employment or rental history in this country?	14
Question 26.	Is it okay to offer rental "specials" to induce more prospective tenants to apply?	14
Question 27.	Can a housing provider legally refuse applicants because of their criminal record?	15
Question 28.	How do fair housing laws affect income and employment requirements?	15
Question 29.	We expect tenants in our rental house to maintain the yard and make minor repairs. Can I ask female applicants if they can handle this work?	16

CHAPTER THREE: TENANT RULES & REGULATIONS Page 17

Question 30.	What are some things we should know about setting policies and rules at our complex from a fair housing perspective?	17
Question 31.	When is it okay to warn tenants who violate the rules without violating fair housing laws?	17
Question 32.	I am a good friend of a tenant who lives at the complex I manager. I usually put her repair requests ahead of other tenants' requests. Will that get me into trouble?	18
Question 33.	What are some examples of evictions that could violate fair housing laws?	18
Question 34.	When is it okay to evict tenants without violating fair housing laws?	19
Question 35.	Can I offer senior discounts to those who always pay their rent on time and follow the rules?	19
Question 36.	Okay, we've heard "be consistent" over and over, but is there any time we can make an exception to the rules without risking an allegation of discrimination?	20
Question 37.	What records should I keep to document my actions as a manager?	20

Question 38.	Are there any special fair housing issues we should be aware of or tips to assist our maintenance staff?	21
---------------------	--	----

CHAPTER FOUR: HARASSMENT

Page 23

Section A: Sexual Harassment 23

Question 39.	We have trained our employees on sexual harassment law in employment. How is sexual harassment law applied in housing situations?	23
Question 40.	What types of conduct are considered sexual harassment?	24
Question 41.	A resident of a building we own just informed us that a maintenance person told her he would respond more quickly to her repairs if she slept with him. What should we do?	24

Section B: Disputes with Tenants 25

Question 42.	A tenant told me that another tenant called him a racially derogatory name. Can't I tell him to handle it himself because I don't want to get involved in private tenant disputes?	25
Question 43.	If a tenant complains that another tenant is harassing her and her children, what can I do?	25

Section C: Domestic Violence 27

Question 44.	We have a policy of zero tolerance for violence at our complex and recently issued a notice to vacate to a woman whose husband beat her and was arrested. Is this okay under the fair housing laws?	27
Question 45.	When I screen prospective tenants, I deny housing to anyone who has a record of involvement with domestic violence. I don't ask whether the applicant was the victim or the perpetrator. I just don't want that type of trouble at my complex. What's wrong with that?	28

CHAPTER FIVE: FAMILIES WITH CHILDREN AND HOUSING FOR OLDER PERSONS

Page 29

Section A: Welcoming Families with Children 29

- Question 46. Can I say "Families Welcome" in my advertising or on my community signage? 29
- Question 47. Should I avoid certain words or phrases to make sure I don't turn away families with children? 29
- Question 48. Can I refuse to rent to a family with a young child if the available unit has an unsafe balcony or if the complex is near a busy intersection with no place for children to play? 30
- Question 49. Can I have one building for families near a playground and have another quieter building for my tenants who don't have children? 30
- Question 50. If a long-term tenant asks me not to rent a unit above her to a family to keep the noise down, what should I tell her? 30
- Question 51. We have had problems with teens belonging to gangs and causing property damage. Can we refuse to rent to families with teenagers or charge them a higher damage deposit? 30
- Question 52. A couple with a 10-year-old son and a 13-year-old daughter wanted to rent a two bedroom unit. We told them they need another bedroom because two children of opposite sexes can't be in the same room. Don't HUD rules allow us to do that? 31

Section B: Family Friendly Rules & Regulations 31

- Question 53. Many children at the complex ride their bikes on the sidewalks, making it difficult for tenants to walk to their units from the parking lot. We now have a rule that says "children cannot ride their bicycles on the walkways." Is that okay? 31

Question 54.	Some children at this complex caused damage to the common areas. Can I establish a rule that says "parents are responsible for damage done by their children" and stop them from playing there?	32
Question 55.	I have a rule that children's toys must be kept in their unit and may not be left in the halls or common areas. Is that okay?	32
Question 56.	Can we have a curfew at our complex to make sure kids don't loiter and cause problems at night?	32
Question 57.	Our complex requires that all children under 18 have an adult present when using the pool. We also have adult swim hours so our adult tenants can swim laps. Are these rules allowed?	33
Question 58.	Our complex requires that all children under 18 have an adult present when using the sauna or the workout room. Can we do that?	33

Section C: Occupancy Standards & Surcharges 34

Question 59.	What is an occupancy standard and do I need to have one at my building?	34
Question 60.	I have heard that an occupancy standard of two per bedroom or two per bedroom plus one is considered reasonable. Is that correct?	34
Question 61.	How can I establish an occupancy standard that is reasonable when there is no clear guideline?	34
Question 62.	I charge an additional $10.00 for each occupant over two at my mobile home park. Can I do that?	35

Section D: Housing for Older Persons 36

Question 63.	What is the Housing for Older Persons Act?	36
Question 64.	How can I show my intent to operate as a 55 or older property?	36
Question 65.	How do I calculate the 80% occupancy requirement?	37

Question 66.	How should I go about getting age verification?	37
Question 67.	Can I have rules at my 55 or older property that say children under 18 are not allowed in certain common areas at certain times?	37

CHAPTER SIX: PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

Page 39

Section A: Disability Law 101 39

Question 68.	What disability laws apply to housing?	39
Question 69.	What is the difference between federal laws regarding disability and state and local laws?	40
Question 70.	Who is considered a person with a disability under federal and state law?	40
Question 71.	Who is not considered to have a disability?	40

Section B: Welcoming People with Disabilities 41

Question 72.	Can I market my accessible units to people with disabilities?	41
Question 73.	What questions can I ask prospective tenants about disabilities?	41
Question 74.	What questions should I avoid?	42
Question 75.	What other ways can I welcome people with disabilities?	42

Section C: Reasonable Accommodations 43

Question 76.	What is a reasonable accommodation?	43
Question 77.	How do I know if someone needs an accommodation?	43
Question 78.	If a tenant requests an accommodation, can I	44

	require documentation that the tenant really needs the accommodation?
Question 79.	How do you tell if a request is "reasonable" or not?	44
Question 80.	A tenant who recently began using a walker to get around has requested a move to a ground floor apartment. Must I allow her to move?	44
Question 81.	We have a "no pets" rule and a tenant with a disability has asked to keep a "service animal." What do I need to know about these animals?	44
Question 82.	An otherwise qualified applicant asked to have a Rottweiler as a service animal, but our insurance company will not insure certain breeds, including Rottweilers. What should we do?	45
Question 83.	A tenant with a disability has requested a reserved accessible parking space in our complex that has no assigned parking. Must we provide this?	46
Question 84.	I just learned that a 13-year-old at our complex who frequently swims with his 15-year-old brother has epilepsy. I sent a notice to his mother informing her that her son may not swim without her or another responsible adult present. Is that okay?	47
Question 85.	I've received noise complaints about a child with a developmental disability. What steps can I take to resolve this issue?	47
Question 86.	Tenants are complaining about the odd and threatening behavior of another tenant. To keep them happy, we issued him a violation notice. His sister then notified us that he has a psychiatric disability. What should we do?	48
Question 87.	Even though we've accommodated him several times, a tenant with a disability keeps making accommodation requests. How many accommodations do we have to provide?	49
Question 88.	After we served a tenant with a summons for an unlawful detainer action, he asked for a	49

	reasonable accommodation and expects us to work with him to help him remain a tenant. Do we have to do this at such a late stage?
Question 89.	Are there any circumstances when I don't have to provide an accommodation or modification?	49
Section D: Reasonable Modifications		50
Question 90.	What is a reasonable modification?	50
Question 91.	Who pays for disability accommodations and modifications?	50
Question 92.	If a tenant makes a modification, how can I be sure it's done in a professional manner, with proper building permits?	51
Question 93.	Can I require that the modifications be removed when a tenant with a disability moves out?	51
Question 94.	Can I charge a tenant with a disability an increased security deposit to cover the costs of restoring a unit?	51
Question 95.	Our building was built in the 1950s. Do I have to let a tenant who uses a wheelchair modify his unit?	51
Section E: Access		52
Question 96.	What are the benefits of accessible housing?	52
Question 97.	My complex was built before 1976. What accessibility standards apply?	52
Question 98.	What are the general access standards for buildings constructed after 1976?	52
Question 99.	What additional standards apply to buildings built after March 13, 1991?	53
Question 100.	What standards should I follow for buildings built after July 1, 1992, in Washington state?	53

APPENDICES

Appendix A: Fair Housing Agency Chart

Appendix B: Alternative Screening Documents

Appendix C: Common Disability Accommodations